Please briefly present the history of the organization:

The Human Development Research Initiative (HDRI) was founded in 2016 (registered 2017) by eight graduate students from Sciences Po, the Paris Institute of Political Sciences. These students came together with the vision of creating a platform to rethink development towards a more inclusive, just, and sustainable society. Since its inception, HDRI has been dedicated to conducting independent, rigorous, and ethical policy research while also fostering debate in the field of human development.

Over the years, HDRI has grown into a youth-led think tank with a focus on five core topics: Environment, Climate Change & Energy; Migration & Security; Global Health; Gender Equity; and Economic, Social & Cultural Rights.

Throughout its history, HDRI has remained committed to its mission of advancing human development and justice worldwide through policy research and advocacy. It has provided students with opportunities to engage in policy-making and gain professional experience in the policy arena. As it continues to evolve, HDRI aspires to become a key actor in the international development policy arena, contributing to fair, joint, and sustainable development for all.

What is your organisation's motivation to join our Network? How can we contribute to your organisation and how your organisation can contribute to CDN?

HDRI's motivation to join the Cooperation and Development Network Eastern Europe (CDN) stems from our shared commitment to advancing green ideas, promoting sustainability, and fostering democratic values in Eastern Europe. As a youth-led think tank dedicated to policy research and advocacy for human development, HDRI recognizes the importance of collaborating with like-minded organizations to effect meaningful change.

By joining CDN, HDRI seeks to contribute its expertise in policy research and advocacy to support the development and implementation of green initiatives in Eastern Europe. Our focus on key areas such as environment, climate change, gender equity, and economic rights aligns closely with CDN's mission to promote a green vision for the region. ## Introduction

We hereby ask you to accept our organisation into the CDNEE structures. As an organisation we broke up due to a rift with our parent party (2019) and this year we are celebrating our 2nd anniversary since our rebirth.

It's been a tough two years and we have even tougher years ahead of us. However, we have some successes to report. We are beginning to restructure our activities and our visibility in the public arena is gradually growing (we now have about 90 members). Our main goal is to create a platform for young people who want to combine activism with good politics and a strong eco-social value base. We organise our own projects (one last year thanks to CDN, one this year thanks to FYEG), we meet, we influence our party both in terms of personnel (our co-speaker became vice-president a month ago) and values (pressure to speak out on the Gaza conflict, pressure on issues important to our generation such as the climate crisis, minority rights, etc.) and we try to do the same in the public space (helping to organise slow marches against car traffic, supporting the anti pro-life demonstration etc.). At the same time, we've been able to make contact with the whole spectrum of activists, and the first steps are being taken towards a possible larger collaboration on future projects.

All of this has happened basically in the period of our one presidency (1 year) and therefore we are very optimistic about how we might do in the future. We are very much aligned with the values of CDNEE and we already know many of you and it will be a pleasure and honor to work with you.

Please briefly present the history of the organisation:
The Czech Young Greens were established in 2014 and existed as a youth organisation until 2020 then it de facto dissolved after the leadership at the time left and founded their own youth organisation. The Czech Young Greens were reestablished in 2022 at reestablishing assembly in June. Since then the new leadership has managed to finish the negotiations with the splitter group and get all the official channels including the legal registration back. Throughout the two years after the reestablishment the organisation was primarily focused on movement building, recruiting new members and setting solid foundations for continued functioning. Now it has almost 90 members and local branches in six towns and cities around Czechia.
Please briefly present mission and vision of the organisation, what are your core values:
The vision of the Czech Young Greens is a society in which all people are free and equal and respect all living beings and planet Earth. The aim of the Czech Young Greens is: Nature and landscape conservation and an environmentally sustainable society that values the environment and public space, respects the rights of all living creatures and is not oriented towards ownership and excessive consumption. A socially just society where everyone has truly equal rights and opportunities. We want a society built on cooperation instead of competition, in which all its members can realise their potential. A society based on solidarity between the strong and the weak, the rich and the poor, the healthy and the sick, the young and the old, and vice versa, in which the basic conditions for a happy and dignified life are guaranteed to all people. An inclusive society that recognises its diversity and advocates for equal rights and equal representation for all of us, regardless of colour, ethnicity, place of birth, language, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual identity, age, health or social background, and for the elimination of all forms of disadvantage, exclusion, discrimination and barriers between people.

A democratic society in which people have the right to co-determine all areas of their lives and their freedom and solidarity are not limited by the principle of tradition.

A young generation that is involved in civic life, fighting for their rights and not afraid to speak out against injustice.

The Czech Young Greens are aware that all of the above objectives are interconnected and want to achieve their fulfilment at the local, regional, national, European and global level and to promote the principles contained therein both externally and within the internal functioning of the organisation.

What is your organisation's motivation to join our Network? How can we contribute to your organisation and how your organisation can contribute to CDN?

(Re)joining CDN is aligned with Czech Young Green's values of environmental sustainability and social justice. We believe that by working together with other organizations in Central and Eastern Europe, we can address the root causes of environmental degradation and social inequality. Through collaborative initiatives and knowledge exchange within the network, we aim to advance solutions that promote environmental justice and uplift the marginalized.

Please list (the main) activities of your organisation in the past 2 years:

The Czech young greens has been focused on reconstructing its structures and movement building since its reestablishment almost 2 years ago. It regularly takes part in peaceful environmental protests in the various localities where it is active e.g. in Prague where it joined protest marches to lower the speed limit. It's also managing to build capacities in its members and strives to create a safe space collective for everyone. It cooperates with other activist organisations in Czechia and internationally as well as with the Czech Green Party. In cooperation with the CDN we printed a book "Guide for young people in the anthropocene". We are preparing direct action sticker camping against sidewalk parking as well as an online campaign addressing period poverty.

Please, list involvement in CDN and/or FYEG activities in the past 2 years:

The Czech Young Greens were readmitted into FYEG in May 2023 at the GA in Barcelona. Our members took part in the summer camp in Sweden in June 2023, the Green Rave 2024 and the decentralized training sessions in 2023. We will be a part of the FYEG train tour before the European elections.

We received a grant from CDN to work with young people in Czechia to create a publication as part of the Climate-Campaigns project which we successfully did and the publication called "Guide for young people in anthropocene" is now in circulation.
